Maximising the impact of technology for charities, not-for-profits and technology & digital professionals

Welcome to our community

Technology plays a pivotal role in transforming lives and communities, and our mission, our obsession you might say, is to support charities and not-for-profits in maximising the impact that technology has for their beneficiaries.

By becoming a CITL member, your organisation will access a dynamic, engaged and supportive community of technologists from the UK non-profit sector, all committed to delivering life-changing outcomes for people, animals, communities and the environment.

Membership is organisational, not individual. That means that one membership allows all IT, digital and technical professionals from each charity or NFP to benefit from our networking and training opportunities, our professional, expert and supportive communities, exclusive events and a library of resources.

Our thriving and active Teams and WhatsApp channels enable information-sharing, problem-solving and connection with peers who understand the challenges you're facing.

Whether you're an established senior leader who wants to connect with peers and tackle the biggest challenges our sector is facing, a technical specialist or section head wanting to improve delivery and build your skills and career, or you're just starting out in technology or charities, CITL is will help you develop yourself and ensure your organisation is able to achieve its mission, driven by technology.
I hope you'll join us, Tree

"Ever since my first Charity IT Leaders meeting back in 2016 I've felt empowered by the fact that I was surrounded by a variety of hugely talented people who are all driven to solve similar, big problems. I've made extensive use of the network, quarterlies and especially the annual conference."
Chief Digital and Information Officer, Medical Charity

INNOVATION ›› COLLABORATION ›› EXPERTISE

As a CITL member you are:

Connected
Our community of professionals from the world of technology, IT and digital, all working in charities and not-for-profits, is supportive, engaged and collaborative.

Always learning
Our events calendar offers a range of online and in-person activities, including workshops, webinars, roundtables, drop-ins and networking.

Our resource library is expanding and includes templates, thought-leadership papers, case studies and guidance documents.

Special Interest Groups enable targeted and focused engagement ion specific topics and areas of specialism.

Invited...
...to our annual conference, held over three days, and packed with masterclasses, workshops, seminars and case studies. It's an opportunity to connect with peers, network with our sponsors, learn, collaborate and recharge. And it's FREE to members.

Shaping the future of the sector
On behalf of our members, we are a collective voice that speaks on issues affecting you, your organisations and the wider sector. As our membership grows, so to does our voice, enabling us to share our members' views and to represent their best interests.

"We want our members to feel part of a community, to connect with peers who 'get it', who understand the challenges and frustrations they face. We want more organisations and individuals to benefit from the resources, events and networks that we proved so that technology can deliver maximum impact across our sector."
Laura Dawson, Interim Chair of Trustees, CITL

"Since I joined Charity IT Leaders back in 2019, I've felt blessed to be part of a supportive, expert and engaged community that I and my team can learn from as we move through our digital journey. I've found the community, warm, welcoming and willing to help at every twist and turn of the way, and my thanks go out to the CITL community, management team and Trustees for all their support over the years."
Director of Digital Transformation, Animal Charity

INNOVATION >> COLLABORATION >> EXPERTISE

CITL is the leading technology and digital networking group for the UK charity and not-for- profit sector. As a charity ourselves, we understand the pressures and challenges faced by our members, and we are committed to providing the support and resources they need to achieve their goals.

Since 2000, our mission has been to make charities more efficient and effective by using the power of technology and digital as a key driver of business change and service delivery.

Our vision is to drive excellence and innovation, to be the trusted voice of our sector, and to support the technology leaders of today and the future in delivering vital outcomes for people, animals, the environment and society.

To find out more visit charityitleaders.org.uk or contact us at admin@charityitleaders.org.uk

"As a technology leader, I've discovered a wealth of shared experience from peers from other charities, which is actively shared. Members reach out to the group seeking information and guidance on technology solutions, platforms or things to watch out for when embarking on new projects. There is also the opportunity to meet members face to face and virtually in the annual conference, virtual meetings and webinars through which members can share and discuss topics of interest. I would therefore strongly recommend CITL participation to any Charity wanting to benefit through collaboration and knowledge sharing."
